Princeton North Wins Best Picture!

The Association of Positive Behavior Supports (APBS) Annual Film Festival received 61 school videos from around the country and awarded Princeton North the top honor. Positive Behavioral Interventions and Supports (PBIS) provides Minnesota districts and schools with training and technical support designed to promote improvement in student behavior. PBIS establishes clearly defined outcomes related to academic and social behavior that lead to student success. Watch the video on YouTube.

Special Education Funding

The Office of the Legislative Auditor (OLA) released an evaluation report, Special Education, which examines special education funding and policy within our state. Key findings include a recommendation to reduce school district reliance on general education funding to pay special education expenses and recommends that the Minnesota Department of Education work with school districts to identify feasible cost controls in special education and continue efforts to streamline and reduce special education paperwork.
